Deaf residents of Missouri are holding their breaths. There is a bill, HB 1825, that has been introduced. It would require TV stations with gross earnings of 3 mil a year to provide real-time captions for all of their local news, weather and sports broadcasts.

Breath is being held because this bill has not been referred to a committee.

It is official. Lawrence H. Summers will be resigning as president of Harvard University.

Summers created waves when he questioned the capabilities of women in science. DeafDigest pointed out in a past edition that Caroline Miller Solomon, herself deaf and a Harvard graduate, teaches Biology at Gallaudet University.

Harry Lang's book on deaf scientists has profiled a number of prominent deaf female scientists.

Good riddance, Summers; we, the deaf, don't need your attitude.

Much debate has raged in Idaho on how to deal with the declining enrollment of Idaho School for the Deaf and Blind (ISDB)

A proposal has been made to close the school but instead, to offer educational services for the deaf in eight different state regional locations.

Few states have this type of arrangement.

Deaf pilot Stephen Hopson, Akron, Ohio, was written up in the newspapers as the "first deaf pilot to earn instrument rating."

First deaf pilot with this accomplishment? DeafDigest is not sure. We have a national organization of deaf pilots which is The Deaf Pilots Association (DPA).

DEAF AND DEAF

It is always interesting to witness a Deaf person and another Deaf person doing something, regardless if either person was aware of another deaf person around.

An example would be Deaf batter Dummy Hoy opposing Deaf pitcher Dummy Taylor in a major league game in 1902.

Mark King, a NTID graduate, is employed as an official race track photographer for the Northfield Park which races standardbred horses. His photofinish pictures help the judges determine which horses finished in a 1-2-3-4-5 order.

Rick Macomber, a Gallaudet graduate, is a professional standardbred driver, racing mostly at race tracks of Indiana.

Rick, at one time, raced at the Northfield Park, where Mark took pictures of Rick's and other competing horses in one race. A deaf driver and a deaf photographer.

Not sure if Rick was aware he was being photographed at the finish line by a deaf photographer, but Mark knew in advance that the driver was deaf.

WHAT DOES THAT MEAN?

There was a recent announcement from a college about its Pediatric Amplification Laboratory. It seeks deaf children for research into speech perception and hearing aid characteristics.

We are always concerned about deafness among newly born infants. For that reason alone more states have these Newborn Hearing Intervention procedures, and this is great.

But Pediatric Amplification Laboratory? What does that mean? To amplify is to make larger or greater, and in the case of deaf infants, to help them discriminate sounds.

If this is the case, then what is so wrong about calling it Hearing and Speech Center or something like that?

Attention: Teachers of the Deaf

If you are interested in becoming an expert in the education of children with cochlear implants, we invite you to apply for the next 6 week Educational Consultant Training Program (ECTP) which will begin in mid-June. This will be the 8th time that the ECTP program has been offered. Over 60 teachers from 38 states have completed the ECTP program.

This intensive and field-tested 6-week training program will be held at three sites:

- The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (Phila, PA)
- the California Ear Institute (Palo Alto, CA)
- and the Atlanta Speech School (Atlanta, GA).

Each class will be limited to 8 experienced teachers of the deaf. Each graduate of this full-time program will receive a certificate and 9 graduate credits.

Students also receive FREE tuition, books and materials and a stipend to cover living expenses while they are in Philadelphia, Palo Alto or Atlanta.

Please go to <http://www.chop.edu/ectp> to learn more about the program and complete the online application.

Deadline for the summer class is March 15th.

If you want to assist your educational program with the increasing number of children with cochlear implants, this is a great training program for you. You are immersed in the medical, audiological, speech-language, social-emotional and educational aspects of this specialized field for six weeks. Our graduates have made an impact in the quality of education for children with cochlear implants in mainstream program, deaf class, residential programs, etc.

Call for Papers:

150 Years on Kendall Green: Celebrating Deaf History and Gallaudet

On April 11, 12, and 13 of 2007, Gallaudet University will hold a conference titled "150 Years on Kendall Green: Celebrating Deaf History and Gallaudet" in Washington, DC, to mark the sesquicentennial of the founding of the Columbia Institution for the Deaf, the parent of today's Gallaudet University and the Laurent Clerc National Deaf Education Center, which includes the Model Secondary School for the Deaf and the Kendall Demonstration Elementary School.

The conference planning committee is interested in receiving proposals for papers or presentations that examine Deaf history and Deaf culture, particularly as these topics relate to Gallaudet University, its alumni, programs, history, and influence. Other topics in United States Deaf history also will be considered.

The University will pay an honorarium, arrange and pay for travel, waive registration fees, and provide accommodations in the Gallaudet University Kellogg Conference Hotel (or similar facility) for all individuals accepted as presenters for this conference.

Interpretation into spoken English and American Sign Language will be provided. All sessions also will be open captioned in English.

Interested individuals should write a short proposal, no more than 250 words, describing the content and method of their presentation. It is anticipated that most papers will not exceed 30 minutes, but longer presentations may be considered if they are appropriate.

Proposal Deadline: June 1, 2006

Submit to:
Dr. Brian Greenwald,
Department of Government and History,
Gallaudet University,
800 Florida Avenue, NE,
Washington, DC, 20002.

Questions may be addressed to: <mailto:brian.greenwald@gallaudet.edu>

(Note: This conference is sponsored by the Gallaudet University Press Institute, with additional support provided by the Gallaudet Research Institute, the Clerc Center, and the Gallaudet University Department of Government and History.)

A DEAF LAKE

There certainly are towns and streets and even waterways named after the deaf outside of USA.

Here is one in Canada - Kidd Creek, located just north of Timmons, Ontario. It was named after Dr. Donald J. Kidd, a deaf physicist, whom in his latter years, taught at Gallaudet University.

DeafDigest editor years ago, as a young Gallaudet student, remembers Dr Kidd very well.

PARALLELING BEETHOVEN'S FEAT

Many of us know that Beethoven worked on his best piece of music after he became deaf.

How many of us know about James Douglas, a composer from Scotland?

Douglas became deaf at the age of 59 in 1991. Instead of sulking in self-pity, he came out with a masterpiece - 75 pieces of "The Christ Church Sequence" a project that took him several years to complete.

Is it something about deafness that brings out the best in eminent musicians?

A DEAF SOMETHING

Last week's DeafDigest asked if there was such a thing as a Deaf Plant?

Is there such a thing as a deaf bird? Or are birds really capable of hearing? This is a topic that ornithologists would know and can discuss at length?

Well, there was a sarcastic quip that was found in one hastily written newspaper story -

"it seems to be working on all but a few brave or deaf birds"

Of course it has nothing to do with the real birds, but of those in politics.

But, a deaf bird? Is there such a thing?

A DEAFMOTTO

What is a motto? It is a short statement of a principle, or a goal or an ideal.

We have a number of postsecondary programs for the deaf.
What is the motto of Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf?

"Education...For Learning, For Earning, For Life!"

Next week - another DeafMotto.

THE WAY LAWS AND REGULATIONS ARE WRITTEN UP

DeafDigest editor, as a young man, took part in the Section 504 protest demonstration at the building of the old Health, Education and Welfare (HEW).

The deaf people were protesting that while Section 504 was passed into law by Congress, the HEW dragged its feet on writing up the regulations.

The same goes for other deaf-related regulations (PL 94-142 among other things).

A Capitol Hill insider said:

the Congress may pass a broadly worded statute; agencies are supposed to write up vague rules; those enforcing end up interpreting exactly what the rules are supposed to mean, and as a result - a briefly written up regulation ends up with hundreds of pages in the Code of Federal Regulations, and no one knows about it

It is sad when a deaf-related law is passed and no one knows how to write it into a law.
