LONG AND FAITHFUL SERVICE

Recently , a surprise banquet was tendered to Miss Minnie C: Holley by the staff in honor of her birthday and in recognition of her quarter of a century of faithful efficient service at this school. She came here as supervisor of girls when the school was only two years old and has served in the capacities of teacher of the blind, instructor in beauty culture, teacher of the deaf and academic principal. After receiving her appointment as teacher of the deaf she decided to make thorough preparation for this work and studied at the University of Toronto, Upilanti State College and Columbia University where she received the M.A. Degree. Since then she has pursued work at the Uuniversity of Southern Colifornia. Her services have been of the highest order and she is noted for her tireless efforts to aid the handicapped in every way. The preparations for the banquet were kept from her, and she was nearly swept from her feet when she entered the beautifully decorated dining room to find the long table filled with guests of both races. Mr. Felix T. Warren, who has been the instructor in bar-bering more than twenty years, was the very gracious and dignified tost master who helped to add to the enjoyment of the occasion. Tributes to the guest of honor were paid by Mrs. Daisy Lawrence, niece of Juliette Lowe, the founder of Girl Scouting in America, Miss Marion Bixler, of the Girl Scout office, Mis lsie Mae Davis, Mrs. Charlotte Lacy, Mrs. Clara Hamilton and Miss Georgiana Harper. Supt. E. A. Bolling, who was confined on account of illness, sent an eloquent tribute which was read by Mrs. Katherine Robinson. Miss Holley received numerous useful and beautiful gifts. The staff presented her with a gold linked bracelet engraved with her name and twenty-five years of service.

Nothing is more natural than for parents of a deaf child to cling to the hope that the deafness is temporary and the hearing may be re storeday Many parents cling to this forlorn hope through the years. Consequently, they often become easy prey for charlatans and unscru oulous agents of hearing aids. Over the years we have had to warn such parents to exercise due caution in such situations. A case of a widowed mother is recalled who was urged to buy an expensive hearing aid for her daughter although the daughter had been totally deaf since infancy. She was advised that her child had been examined by an outstanding specialist in Charleston who diagnosed her case as hopeless. In spite of this warning the poor woman succumbed to the wiles of the salesman and purchased the aid at a cost of nearly one hundred and Edity dollars. It is needless to say that the instrument proved worther and are as ennabling the girl to hear is concerned and it was soon asserded. This is but one case and there have been several others. In one instance the parent heeded the earning, carried the child to the says specialist who had examined her upon her entran e in school and mined from him that a hearing aid would be of no service.

The parents of the Children who attend this school should understand that within a week after each new pupil enters he is carried to Charleston to some highly reputable specialist for an eye and ear exa ination is paid by the State Department of Public Assistance I If Janoba more be any hope of the r storation of hearing or sight through treatreperintendent. The physician's advice is faithfully followed. In e instances glasses or hearing saids may be recommended. Only in cases do we advise the parents that a hearing aid should be seur-Also in these cases, we have been able to have the instruments purchased through the D. P. A. when the parents are two poor to do so themselves.

Again, our teachers are constantly on the altert to detect any evidence that there is enough sight or hearing left to warrant consideration. Such cases are discussed in faculty meetings and these children are sent back to the specialist for re-examination. These things are related that parents may know the truth and that they may not be persuaded to spend their hard carned money for a hearing aid and meet with almost ce tain disappointment abdand and to send at flate out yo yel ley by the staff in hence of her birthday indicted this school.

VISIT BY THE STATE BOARD

On Wednesday afternoon, October 22, two DeSoto suburbans bearing the insignia of West Virginia State College stopped in front of the Main Building and out stepped the members of the State Board of Education on an official visit to our school. Those present for the inspection were President Kelvin Holliday, Mrs. Thelma Loudin, vice president, Messrs. Garland Dunn, Raymond Brewster, Ross H. Tuckwiller, Lawrence R. Lynch, Dr. W. W. Trent and Mr. H. K. Baer, Secretary of the Board. They were greeted by Superintendent Bolling who led them on a tour of inspection. They requested to be taken firs to the new Auditorium - gymnasium which several of the members had not seen before. They found it beautiful, well-planned structure with a highly polished floor, a spacious stage and immaculete toilets. The group then inspected the kitchen, pantry, dining room, lounges and dormitories and gave unstinted praise to the staff for the cleanliness and good order found everywhere. They were particularly interested in the television room provided for the students on the first floor of the Main Building containing a General Electric T. V. set and new folding chairs and settees to accomodate the watchers.

They went through the two shoool buildings inspecting carefully the library, classrooms and shops. They were impressed with the need for more shop space and have given their approval to the request for an appropriation for a new building which will remedy that condition. It is quite cetain that the Board went away with a most favorable impression of the school and its program and will continue to give their official support to its advancement. We hope the Board will find it possible to make such a visit annually.

A POEM

A soft blue haze hangs over field and town, And the river sleeps lazily neath the kindly sun, Through the quiet air floats the milkweeds silky down, And far over head the crows pass one by one.

The soul becomes quiet in the kindly atmosphere Where mingly the dreams of summer's bustling hours Wit the dread of hostile winter ever drawing near, When we steal away to our lonely ivory towers.

ON JOBS

Several of our students found gainful employment during the summer vacation and gave very satisfactory service to their employers. Three deaf boys worked at the Minit-Man Auto Wash on Washington Street in Charleston. They were Thompson Washington, Carroll and Warren Kwilly They averaged about forty dollars a week. Thomas Philpott is permanent worked as pressers for the Dixie Cleaners. Allen Draper, who received a certificate in barbering last May, has been employed in a shop for white trade in Tazewell, Virginia, and pleasing his customers. Hudelph Valentine, another deaf graduate in barbering, has been worked in the same shop for two years. With hardly an exception our shulents are makinggood on jobs and up-holding the slogan: "Hire the Handicapped. It is good business."

OPEN LETTER

An open letter to the student body and staff was received from former coach, who is now in Korea, PvT. Percy Mack. There was a stragraph written directly to each student. Mr. Mack received the subscaster last month and therefore was well - informed about the stivities of the school. We hope to hear from him again. Members the advanced deaf take turns to write to Mr. Mack so that he gets a letter each week from our school.

WHO IS EDUCATED?

There are five tests of the evidence of education - Correctness and precision in he use of the mother tongue; refined and gentle manners, the result of fixed habits of thought and action; sound standards of appreciation of beauty and of worth; and a character based on these standards; power and habit of reflection; efficiency or the power to do.

GILR SCOUT ROUND-UP

October 26 - November 1

Girls of troop 29 and 56 entertained the spirit of Juliette Low with a special dramatization based on the Seven Service days ofvGivld Girl Scout week. Activitiy for the various days involved many interest and hobbies; such as a Scouts! Own for Sunday, Homemaking on Monday, Citizenship on Tuesday, Health and Safety on Wednesday, International Friendship on Thursday, Arts and Crafts on Friday, and Out-of-Doors day on Saturday.

After the pageant, all the guest joined the two troops in recreational activities of folk-singing and games, and square dances. In compliance with the Governor's re quest, not to build fires out of doors, the weiner roasting eas held in the home economics department. The visitors concluded their day b seeing an exhibit of gifts, collections, hobbies and crafts of troops 29 and 56.

It was fun to celevrate Girl Scout week with other sister scouts and leaders. The spirit of sisterhood reigned supreme at this Pageant. We enjoyed preparing for our guest.
