Utah Association for the Deaf

June 2010

Dr. Robert G. Sanderson Honored

A notable event of significance to the Utah deaf community took place recently at the 141th Gallaudet University Commencement – Dr. Robert G. Sanderson, Class of 1941, received an honorary humanities degree honoris causa. In addition to receiving his diploma, presented in a large portfolio, he received a velvet and satin hood in university colors – buff and blue.

Dr. Robert Sanderson traveled to Washington DC in the company of his two sons, Barry Sanderson of Layton and Gary Sanderson of Pasadena, CA; all stayed at the Kellogg Hotel on campus. The three enjoyed a tour of the campus given by Dwight Benedict, Executive Director of Student Affairs. Utahans may remember Dwight as president and CEO of the 2007 Deaflympics.

On the Gallaudet website, this information was posted: Dr. Sanderson has been an outstanding leader in the deaf community, in his home state of Utah and across the nation, for more than 60 years. After receiving his undergraduate degree from Gallaudet, he earned a master's degree in educational administration from what is now California State University, Northridge, and a doctorate in education from Brigham Young University. The honorary degree is the "icing" on the cake.
